SDS Logistics Acquires DSS Logistics, Expanding Capabilities in ITAD Logistics Services

Nationwide logistics provider SDS Logistics has announced the acquisition of DSS Logistics, a South Carolina-based 3PL with a strong presence in the Information Technology Asset Disposition (ITAD) industry.

This strategic acquisition strengthens SDS Logistics' commitment to providing top-tier logistics services across the nation, while also enhancing its expertise within the growing ITAD sector. The deal will see Darrell Hogan, an ITAD industry veteran with over 35 years of experience, join the SDS Logistics leadership team.

"We are thrilled to bring Darrell Hogan and the talented team from DSS Logistics into the SDS family," said Tom Shapiro, co-founder and CEO of SDS Logistics. "This acquisition allows us to further expand our capabilities and continue to deliver best-in-class services to the ITAD industry. Integrating DSS into our operations is a perfect fit, and we're excited to leverage their expertise, unique perspectives, and culture of innovation to serve our clients even better."

The acquisition of DSS Logistics further positions SDS Logistics as a dominant force in the ITAD space, combining industry-leading logistics services with deep expertise in IT asset disposition. By merging resources and talent, the company is poised to provide enhanced solutions for its growing client base while maintaining its dedication to high standards of customer service and operational excellence.

"The ITAD sector is rapidly evolving, and we are committed to staying ahead of those changes by investing in the right talent and technologies," added Shapiro. "Together with DSS Logistics, we're excited to offer even more robust logistics solutions that will empower our clients to succeed."
